Manuscript Guidelines

Dear Author,

Before submitting your manuscript to ZNW please pay attention to the following guidelines:

- German or English submissions are accepted and they should not have been already published elsewhere.
- Text and footnotes should not exceed 38 000 characters (incl. blank characters).
- Please send your submission to the executive editor via e-mail (at present: matthias.konradt@wts.uni-heidelberg.de) in form of an open text file (Microsoft Word) and an identical PDF file.
- In the same e-mail state your agreement using the “Vereinbarung zur Übertragung der Verlagsrechte / Copyright Transfer Agreement“, which you can download and read at <http://www.degruyter.com/dg/page/308>.
- Please include the following passage in your e-mail: “With the submission of my manuscript for publication by Walter de Gruyter GmbH, I indicate my acceptance of the terms and conditions stated in the Copyright Transfer Agreement (<http://www.degruyter.com/dg/page/308>).“
- Please submit a short 100–120 words abstract (if your article is written in German or French submit an English abstract, if written in English a German abstract, if possible), 3 to 5 keywords, your e-mail address, and your institutional affiliation, along with your article.
- Please note that it is your responsibility to obtain the rights for the use of any copyright material, including text, diagrams or illustrations. Once you have obtained all necessary rights please send us the original receipt or a copy. We also need the required form of copyright acknowledgement.
- The ZNW aims to represent and to stimulate international academic debate. Authors are encouraged to include international research from the English, German and French speaking world and not to confine themselves to their native language.
- Please compose German texts based on the New German Orthography, according to the latest edition of the Duden. English Texts should be composed in British or American English.
- Details on formatting and bibliography are provided in the following guidelines.

Manuscripts are reviewed according to a double-blind peer review policy.

1. Abbreviations of magazines and monograph series

For the abbreviations of journals and monograph series you can choose to use either the SBL Handbook of Style or Siegfried M. Schwertner, IATG³ – Internationales Abkürzungsverzeichnis für Theologie und Grenzgebiete, Berlin – Boston ³2014.

Schwertner's work partially differs from the SBL Handbook of Style and lists both options.

2. Abbreviations of biblical and non-biblical books

2.1 Biblical books are to be abbreviated as follows:

a) German submissions:

Gen, Ex, Lev, Num, Dtn, Jos, Jdc, Ruth, 1–2Sam (LXX: 1–2Reg), 1–2Kön (LXX: 3–4Reg), 1–2Chr, Esr, Neh, Est, Hiob, Ps, Prov, Koh, Cant, Jes, Jer, Thr, Ez, Dan, Hos, Joel, Am, Ob, Jona, Mi, Nah, Hab, Zeph, Hag, Sach, Mal, 1–2Esr, Tob, Jdt, SapSal, Sir, Bar, 1–4Makk, Mt, Mk, Lk, Joh, Apg, Röm, 1–2Kor, Gal, Eph, Phil, Kol, 1–2Thess, 1–2Tim, Tit, Phlm, Hebr, Jak, 1–2Petr, 1–3Joh, Jud, Offb

b) English submissions:

Gen, Exod, Lev, Num, Deut, Josh, Judg, Ruth, 1–2Sam (LXX: 1–2Kgdms), 1–2Kings (LXX: 3–4Kgdms), 1–2Chr, Ezra, Neh, Esth, Job, Ps/Pss, Prov, Eccl (or Qoh), Cant, Isa, Jer, Lam, Ezek, Dan, Hos, Joel, Amos, Obad, Jonah, Mic, Nah, Hab, Zeph, Hag, Zech, Mal, 1–2Esdr, Tob, Jdt, Wis, Sir, Bar, 1–4Macc, Matt, Mark, Luke, John, Acts, Rom, 1–2Cor, Gal, Eph, Phil, Col, 1–2Thess, 1–2Tim, Tit, Phlm, Hebr, Jas, 1–2Pet, 1–3John, Jude, Rev

2.2 For the abbreviation of extracanonical early Jewish literature please use the index of abbreviations mostly created by Christfried Böttrich for the project „Corpus Judaeo-Hellenisticum Novi Testamenti (CJHNT)“¹, which can be found in the appendix.

2.3 Other source texts

The Author's name and the work's title are quoted in Latinized form. The Author's name and the work's title are separated by a comma and a space. The Author's name is not to be abbreviated. A work's abbreviation is to be based on the SBL Handbook of Style, however, the abbreviations are not ended with a period (e.g. Seneca, EpMor 94,2).

3. Bibliography

3.1 General remarks

At its first citation secondary literature should be given in full. Following citations only require the author's last name and a short title (if possible only one word, usually the first noun of the full title); after the short title, reference should be made to the footnote, which contains the complete citation. Examples:

German Articles: Köster, Einführung (s. Anm. 3), 524–526

English Articles: Barclay, Jews (see n. 25), 138–150

¹ First printed in: R. Deines / K.-W. Niebuhr, Philo und das Neue Testament – Wechselseitige Wahrnehmungen. I. Internationales Symposium zum Corpus Judaeo-Hellenisticum 1.–4. Mai 2003, Eisenach/Jena, WUNT 172, Tübingen 2004, XI–XVI.

If two or more consecutive footnotes refer to the same work or article, still cite according to the given examples. Please do not use abbreviations such as loc. cit. or ibid.

Authors' names are written in basic font (no italics, no small capitals). Please always state the authors' first names in full.

Where there are up to three authors, editors, or places of publication please separate them with a slash. In the case of more than three authors, editors, or places of publication, name only the first one and add „u.a.“ (in German texts) or „et al.“ (in English texts).

Editors are identified in German submissions with (Hg.) and in English submissions with (ed.) or (eds.).

3.2 Format of bibliographic references

Authors are provided two options. They can choose to use either the SBL Handbook of Style or the examples below, which continue the previous guidelines of the ZNW. For the second option, titles of monographs or articles are written in regular font and without quotation marks, except if the title actually contains italic words or quotations marks.

4. Other Guidelines

4.1 Reference: For passages of the Bible, chapter and verse are separated by a comma without a space (e.g. Matt 6,1). Verse numbers within the same chapter are separated by a period without a space. (e.g. Matt 6,2–4.5–6.16–18). Passages from different chapters and books are separated by a semicolon and a space (e.g. Rom 3,21–26; Gal 2,16–21).

Please use the em dash (in Word: Ctrl + - in the numeric keypad), for „from–to“ references such as page numbers, not the short dash (e.g. Matt 2,1–12, not Mt 2,1-12).

4.2 For non-latin scriptures (Greek, Hebrew, Syriac etc.) only use a Unicode font. Single Greek, Hebrew, or Latin words and biblical quotes in the original language generally do not need a translation.

4.3 Please list your titles as follows:

1 Title of section

1.1 Title of subsection

1.1.1 Title of sub-subsection

Titles should not end with a period.

For titles of English typescripts, please use either the “sentence style“ in your titles (capitalize the first word and all proper nouns) or the “headline style“ (capitalize all words except from articles and prepositions). Please be consistent within the entire typescript.

4.4 Guidelines for quotes:

- Short quotes (up to 60 words) should be integrated into the continuous text by double quotation marks („...“ for German texts, “...” for English Texts). Only use single quotation marks („...‘ for German texts , ‘...’ for English Texts) to indicate quotes within quotes.
- Longer quotes should appear as a text block. Please be aware that they should stand out from the other text with blank lines. Quotes in text block do not need quotation marks.
- Spelling and punctuation have to match the original source exactly. Should you make additions, please mark them with square brackets []. Omissions are made visible through using [...].
- Latin quotes should be placed between quotation marks and not be written in italics. Apart from quotes, Latin words can be put in italics in order to avoid misunderstandings.

4.5 Please only use the necessary and most common abbreviations (n.; vol./vols.; loc. cit.; e.g.; i.e.; etc.) bearing in mind the index of abbreviations of the IATG³.

At the beginning of a sentence all abbreviations must be spelled out. Please refrain from using abbreviations in the main text, if possible. Likewise, all first names should be spelled out.

Acronyms are written without periods („BCE“ instead of „B.C.E.“).

4.6 Charts and illustrations should be explicitly indicated and numbered throughout the entire text. The title of a chart should be placed above, the title of an illustration below.

Please put charts, graphics, and illustrations (photos, scans) directly in the text. Additionally, please send us high-resolution TIFF- or JPG-files (minimum resolution 300 dpi). Please bear in mind that picture files usually need to be edited for the printing process. Therefore we need a format which allows us to do so. Thus, please do not send files as PDFs.

⁴ Different fragment count in N. Walter, Fragmente jüdisch-hellenistischer Epik: Philon, Theodotus, JSRZ IV/3, Gütersloh 1983, 135–172: 148–153, in compliance with C.R. Holladay, Philo the Epic Poet, in: Fragments from Hellenistic Jewish Authors II: Poets, SBL.TT 30/SBL.PS 12, Atlanta, GA 1989, 205–299, by using every introductory quote as a marker. This increase in the number of fragments allows a more precise citation.

⁵ The breakdown of the Hecataeus fragments is controversial in the research community; a distinction between one and three different authors is being made; a good overview on the manuscript traditions' attribution can be found in C.R. Holladay, Pseudo-Hecataeus, in: Fragments I (see n. 1), 292–293. The breakdown given here follows N. Walter, Fragmente jüdisch-hellenistischer Historiker, JSRZ I/2, Gütersloh 1976, 89–164: 144–153.
